A few of us made the trek to the Children's Museum today. To see the opening of the Star Trek: Exploring New Worlds exhibit. There was a lot to see and do. Everyone had a fun time at the exhibit.

After the Children's Museum, a few of us got together for lunch at Mom's Family Restaurant.

Kenne also showed us her new Star Trek Books she found on-line.

SFC News

A few changes have taken place over the last six years and in an effort to keep everyone going in the same direction and aware, we've made some updates.

The Commander's Manual, has been updated to a "Commander's Guide" for 2019 and reflects the rule changes over the last 6 years. It can be found on the website.

Respectfully,

Forward- march into March! That teetering borderline between winter and spring inhabited by leprechauns, clock resets in order to save some daylight, and giving things up for 40 days- maybe we could all save some time by giving up resetting clocks for leprechauns? Sure, and that's some blarney (no, not Blarney Rubble) - but this month holds some exciting movie surprises! Take a look!
