Welcome to the month best typified by the immortal words "light fuse and get away!" (I know some people probably won't get that- it's a phrase that's often printed on fireworks!) July is definitely one of the summer months when people try to get away- and we'll help you do that, with some of the films fans have asked to see again- taking you to steamy locales with lurking creatures, a trippy car trip in the desert, and more- along with some surprises in the Sven segments! Let's take a look at the star-spangled scares we have for you this month!
